Pope Francis' Message

The ...encounter between Jesus and a man who "had great possessions," went down in history as "the rich young man." We do not know his name. The Gospel of Mark actually speaks of him as "a man," without mentioning his age or name, suggesting that we can all see ourselves in this man, as though in a mirror. His encounter with Jesus, in fact, allows us to test our faith. Reading this, I test myself on my faith. The man begins with a question: "What must I do to inherit eternal life?" Notice the verbs he uses: "must do" – "inherit." Here is his religiosity: a duty, a doing so as to obtain; I do something to get what I need." But this is a commercial relationship with God, a quid pro quo. Faith, on the other hand, is not a cold, mechanical ritual, a "must-do-obtain." It's a question of freedom & love. Faith is a question of freedom; it is a question of love... If it is mainly a duty or a bargaining chip, we are off track, because salvation is a gift & not a duty, it is free and cannot be bought. The first thing to do is to free ourselves of a ... mechanical faith, which insinuates the false image of an accounting and controlling God, not a father. Very often in life we experience this "commerce" relationship of faith: I do this, so that God will give me that. Jesus helps this man by offering him the true face of God. Indeed, it says, "Jesus looking upon him, loved him." This is God! This is where faith is born & reborn: not from a duty, not from obligation or paid, but from a look of love to be welcomed. In this way, Christian life becomes beautiful. If it is based not on our abilities & our plans; it is based on God's gaze. Is your faith tired? Do you want to reinvigorate it? Look for God's gaze: sit in adoration, allow yourself to be forgiven in Confession, stand before the Crucified One. In short, let yourself be loved by him. This is the starting point of faith: letting oneself be loved by him, by the Father. After the question and the look there is – the third and final step – an invitation from Jesus, who says: "You lack one thing." What was that rich man lacking? Giving, gratuitousness. "Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor." It is perhaps what we are missing too. Often, we do the bare minimum... Faith cannot be limited to "do not," because Christian life is a "yes" a "yes" of love. A faith without giving, without works of charity, a faith without gratuitousness is an incomplete faith..., makes us sad in the end: just like that man whose "face fell" and returned home "sorrowful," even though he had been looked upon with love by Jesus in person. Today we can ask ourselves: "At what point is my faith? Do I experience it as something mechanical, like a relationship of duty or interest with God? Do I remember to nourish it by letting myself be looked at and loved by Jesus?" Letting oneself be looked at and loved by Jesus; letting Jesus look at us, love us. "And, attracted by him, do I respond freely, with generosity, with all my heart?" May the Virgin Mary, who said a total "yes" to God, a "yes" without "but" – it is not easy to say "yes" without "but": Our Lady did just that, a "yes" without a "but" - let us savor the beauty of making life a gift. María Lorenza Longo, 16th-century spouse & mother, was beatified in Naples. A widow, she founded in Naples the Hospital for the Incurably Ill and the Capuchin Poor Clares. A woman of great faith and an intense life of prayer, she did all she could for the needs of the poor & the suffering. Pray for us!
