Weekly Reflection
4th Sunday of Lent

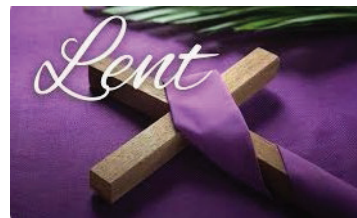

Traditionally the Fourth Sunday of Lent is called Laetare Sunday. Laetare is a Latin word that means rejoice, which is taken from the first word of the entrance hymn sung at the beginning of the liturgy. The Gospel passage for this Sunday also reflects the rejoicing theme where a father is overjoyed that his younger son who was considered lost, came back home. The father ran to welcome his son back. Our Heavenly Father embraces his children who seek reconciliation in their estranged relationship... this brings tears and joys in the eyes of the Church. The rose vestments, at this midway point on our Lenten journey, reflect the joy and hope as we await the resurrection of Christ at Easter.

4° Domingo de Cuaresma

Tradicionalmente, el cuarto domingo de Cuaresma se llama Domingo de Laetare. Laetare es una palabra latina que significa regocijo, tomada de la primera palabra del himno de entrada que se canta al comienzo de la liturgia. El pasaje evangélico de este domingo también refleja el tema de la alegría: un padre se regocija al ver que su hijo menor, que se consideraba perdido, ha regresado a casa. El padre corre a recibirlo. Nuestro Padre Celestial abraza a sus hijos que buscan la reconciliación en su relación distanciada... esto llena de lágrimas y alegría a la Iglesia. Las vestimentas rosas, en este punto intermedio de nuestro camino cuaresmal, reflejan la alegría y la esperanza que aguardamos en la Pascua la resurrección de Cristo.

4° Domenica di Quaresima

Tradicionalmente la quarta domenica di Quaresima è chiamata domenica Laetare. Laetare è una parola latina che significa rallegrarsi, che è presa dalla prima parola dell'inno d'ingresso cantato all'inizio della liturgia. Il brano del Vangelo di questa domenica riflette anche il tema della gioia in cui un padre è felicissimo che il suo figlio più giovane, che era considerato perduto, sia tornato a casa. Il padre corre ad accogliere il figlio. Il nostro Padre Celeste abbraccia i suoi figli che cercano la riconciliazione nella loro relazione separata... questo porta lacrime e gioia negli occhi della Chiesa. I paramenti rosa, a questo punto intermedio del nostro cammino quaresimale, riflettono la gioia e la speranza mentre attendiamo la risurrezione di Cristo a Pasqua.
